

Quiz

Multiple choice

Quiz: Front-End & Back-End

Which of the following are front-ends?

- ☐ A cashier at the super market
- ☐ The inside of a computer
- ☐ The database that stores passenger information
- ☐ Your PC welcome screen that you have to unlock

CHECK

Quiz: Front-End & Back-End

Which of the following are front-ends?

- ☒ A cashier at the super market
- ☐ The inside of a computer
- ☐ The database that stores passenger information
- ☐ Your PC welcome screen that you have to unlock

CHECK

Quiz: Front-End & Back-End

Which of the following are front-ends?

- ☒ A cashier at the super market
- ☐ The inside of a computer
- ☐ The database that stores passenger information
- ☒ Your PC welcome screen that you have to unlock

CORRECT!

Quiz: Front-End & Back-End

Which of the following are front-ends?

- ☒ A cashier at the super market
- ☐ The inside of a computer
- ☐ The database that stores passenger information
- ☐ Your PC welcome screen that you have to unlock

CHECK

Quiz: Front-End & Back-End

Which of the following are front-ends?

- ☒ A cashier at the super market
- ☐ The inside of a computer
- ☒ The database that stores passenger information
- ☐ Your PC welcome screen that you have to unlock

WRONG! Try to revisit lesson 14

Quiz

Open question

Quiz: Front-End & Back-End

Describe the difference between a front-end and a back-end

Type your answer here

CHECK

Quiz: Front-End & Back-End

Describe the difference between a front-end and a back-end

The front-end is what the user can see and interact with. The back-end is the system behind it, consisting of server, application, and database.

CHECK

Quiz: Front-End & Back-End

Describe the difference between a front-end and a back-end

The front-end is what the user can see and interact with. The back-end is the system behind it, consisting of server, application, and database.

Correct answer (click what you have correct):

The term “front-end” refers to the  , while “back-end” means the  ,  and  that work behind the scenes to deliver information to the user.

CHECK

Quiz: Front-End & Back-End

Describe the difference between a front-end and a back-end

The front-end is what the user can see and interact with. The back-end is the system behind it, consisting of server, application, and database.

Correct answer (click what you have correct):

The term “front-end” refers to the user interface, while “back-end” means the server, application and database that work behind the scenes to deliver information to the user.

CHECK

Quiz: Front-End & Back-End

Describe the difference between a front-end and a back-end

The front-end is what the user can see and interact with. The back-end is the system behind it, consisting of server, application, and database.

Correct answer (click what you have correct):

The term “front-end” refers to the user interface, while “back-end” means the server, application and database that work behind the scenes to deliver information to the user.

CORRECT!

Quiz: Front-End & Back-End

Describe the difference between a front-end and a back-end

The front-end is what the user can see and interact with. The back-end is the system behind it, consisting of server and database.

Correct answer (click what you have correct):

The term “front-end” refers to the user interface, while “back-end” means the server, application and database that work behind the scenes to deliver information to the user.

CHECK

Quiz: Front-End & Back-End

Describe the difference between a front-end and a back-end

The front-end is what the user can see and interact with. The back-end is the system behind it, consisting of server and database.

Correct answer (click what you have correct):

The term “front-end” refers to the

user interface

, while “back-end” means the server

, application and database

that work behind the scenes to deliver information to the user.

All! Try to revisit lesson 15

Quiz

Fill-in-the-blank

Quiz: Front-End & Back-End

Fill in the blanks

The term “front-end” refers to the

, while “back-end” means the

and

that

work behind the scenes to deliver information to the user.

user interface

personal computer

server

application

code

data

database

design

CHECK

Quiz: Front-End & Back-End

Fill in the blanks

The term “front-end” refers to the

user interface

, while “back-end” means the

server

, application

and

database

that

work behind the scenes to deliver information to the user.

personal computer

code

data

design

CHECK

Quiz: Front-End & Back-End

Fill in the blanks

The term “front-end” refers to the user interface, while “back-end” means the server, application and database that work behind the scenes to deliver information to the user.

personal computer

code

data

design

CORRECT!

Quiz: Front-End & Back-End

Fill in the blanks

The term “front-end” refers to the  , while “back-end” means the  ,  and  that work behind the scenes to deliver information to the user.

personal computer

server

code

data

CHECK

Quiz: Front-End & Back-End

Fill in the blanks

The term “front-end” refers to the user interface, while “back-end” means the design, application and database that work behind the scenes to deliver information to the user.

personal computer

server

code

data

All! Try to revisit lesson 15

